4-H Enrollments Go Online!!

Starting in 2018 Morrow County 4-H is requiring 4-H families to Re-Enroll or to Join our 4-H program themselves through the 4hOnline.com data base. Ohio and Morrow County 4-H have been using this data base through office member input for 4 years. Last year 11 Morrow County 4-H clubs piloted the on line enrollment with their families and they felt it was a good system and would encourage other clubs.

Discussing the pros and cons we felt that the benefits of accuracy of data, immediate project information and numbers after the deadline (it takes our office about a month to input all the information), and advisor access to member information that we proceed as an all county usage.

So what do you need to do as a 4-H Family or New to 4-H? (Deadline to enroll for 2018 is 11:59 on April 15th!!!)

1. Your club advisor has an information sheet with the directions and your family email we have in the system currently. NOTE: IF YOU DON'T HAVE AN EMAIL LISTED – CONTACT US WITH A VALID EMAIL!!! Do not create a new 4-H Family!!!!!!
2. New to the 4-H program you can create a new profile online and enroll.

Project Enrollment for 4-H and FFA Members and Showing Animals at the Ohio State Fair

4-H members must be enrolled in their county in the project in which they enter to show at the Ohio State Fair Junior Livestock Shows (including poultry, rabbits, and dogs), regardless of whether that project is offered for county exhibition. (1) For example: To show in a gilt class at the Ohio State Fair, youth must be enrolled in project 140 Swine Breeding Project and Record Book. (2) For example: To show a dairy feeder at the Ohio State Fair, youth must be enrolled in project 117DF Dairy Beef Feeder (Market); (3) For example: To show breeding poultry (chickens) at the Ohio State Fair, 4-H members must be enrolled in project 150CE, Exhibition Chickens; to show breeding poultry (ducks), they must be enrolled in project 150DE, Exhibition Ducks, and so forth. (4) For example: To show a dog in agility at the Ohio State Fair, 4-H members must be enrolled in project 201P, Performance; to show the same dog in obedience, project 201O, Obedience, etc.

FFA members must enter to show at the Ohio State Fair the same animal project they are taking through their Supervised Agricultural Experience (SAE). (1) For example: To show a market lamb at the Ohio State Fair, FFA members must be taking market lambs as one of their Supervised Agricultural Experiences. For example: (2) To show a beef breeding heifer at the Ohio State Fair, FFA members must be taking breeding beef as one of their Supervised Agricultural Experiences.

Note: The same animal cannot be enrolled in two projects in the county (exception dog projects and 4-H PetPALS), with the youth planning to enter one or the other project at the Ohio State Fair. Decisions must be made by project enrollment deadline or county's animal identification deadline (whichever comes first). (1) For example: A youth is not permitted to enroll the same beef animal in a breeding project (117B Beef Breeding) AND in a market project (117M Market Beef). (2) For example: A youth is not permitted to enroll the same rabbit in a pet rabbit project (Pet Rabbit Project and Record Book 227) AND in a breeding rabbit project (Breeding Rabbit Project and Record Book 225). She/he must choose which project in which to enroll that animal by county deadlines for that species. (3) Exception dog projects: For example: Youth may enroll the same dog in multiple dog projects such as in You and Your Dog (201D); Obedience (201O); Performance (201P) and Showmanship (201S) provided that dog can perform the required exercises of each project at the Ohio State Fair. (4) Exception: 4-H PetPALS: Youth may enroll in a pet rabbit project (225) and 4-H PetPALS (230), or 150CE Exhibition Chickens and 230 4-H PetPALS, etc. with the same animal.

Don't Forget The County Projects When Enrolling!

When filling out your enrollment forms don't forget to consider the county projects not listed in the State 4-H Family Guide. Morrow County created these projects from members/advisors/parents suggestions and needs. They all have project books and are free to members.

Join Us for a Day of Discovery on Lake Erie

On June 7 4-H youth and volunteers will spend the day learning about Lake Erie and the islands within. We will visit The Ohio State University's Stone Lab on Gibraltar Island. Stone Lab is a freshwater field station that oversees programs that have introduced thousands – from elementary students to adults – to the basics of field-based biological science.

Several science activities will fill our day! We will take a 2-hour Science Cruise aboard a research vessel, where students measure current environmental conditions, sample algae and plankton, and collect and identify Lake Erie fish. Their samples will then go to the lab to be analyzed by the youth and volunteers. Participants will collect macroinvertebrates using kick seines and dip nets and then look at their water samples under a dissecting scope to determine local water quality.

We will see live and preserved specimens and photos of a variety of Ohio's reptiles and amphibians and learn about current snake research underway at Stone Lab, which has been featured on the Discovery Channel's "Dirty Jobs."

The cost is $30 per person which includes transportation (charter bus from Mt. Gilead to Port Clinton and a Ferry to Put-in-Bay), lunch, and fees for Stone Lab activities.

To register, go to www.go.osu.edu/stemworkshops.

Morrow County Teens Attend National Youth Summit on Agri-Science in Washington, D.C.

By Amanda Forquer, OSU Extension – Morrow County, 4-H Educator

Mount Gilead, OH (January 25, 2018) – In order to continue to fuel the discovery of new solutions and solve big challenges in human health, agriculture and food, it will be critical to cultivate the next generation of leaders in science. Emma Burchett, Jacob Kirkland, Jacob Serio, and Lucy Smith recently got their chance to hone their agri-science skills at the National Youth Summit on Agri-Science in Washington, D.C.

Amanda Forquer, OSU Extension 4-H Educator in Morrow County, escorted the youth to this four -day Summit which was held at the National 4-H Conference Center, in Chevy Chase, Maryland. Nearly 250 youth were immersed in an agenda focused on a variety of agri-science topics relevant to today’s agriculture including: soil health, animal biosecurity, agribusiness, drones, honey bees, and precision farming.

Attendees from across the country had the opportunity to build their science skills in more than 15 sessions led by a number of industry leaders and mentors. “Because of the attendees being from so many different states I really enjoyed the diversity of everyone’s ideas. With having different backgrounds people had multiple ways of solving the same problems,” said Emma Burchett. Youth enjoyed the interactive sessions as they were easy to follow and most importantly easy to learn about science!

One workshop paired eight youth with a scientist from Bayer. The scientist guided the youth through a simulation of the process necessary to get the idea of a new product, to having it available to consumers. “I didn’t realize how much time and the amount of money that is involved with bringing a product to market,” said Jacob Serio.

Two hours was dedicated to youth interacting directly with people working in the field of agriculture. This gave them the opportunity to learn how these successful professionals went from high school students to where they are today. They learned what schooling/training is needed, experience needed, how networking with professionals in the field is invaluable, and so much more. Emma learned there is a place for agriculture everywhere!

Throughout the conference our team of four had to develop a plan to solve a problem that they felt was happening within their community. The team created a presentation, Sparking Youth’s Interest in Agriculture, which would educate the community about 4-H and FFA which will result in them learning more about agriculture.

The 2018 National Youth Summit on Agri-Science was sponsored by Bayer and is just one part of Bayer’s commitment to grow the pipeline of tomorrow’s innovators in science and agriculture. Science matters, a nationwide collaboration between Bayer and National 4-H Council, leverages Bayer’s more than 150 years of scientific breakthroughs and 4-H’s century of hands-on learning to equip more than 25,000 youth with tools and support they need to deepen their understanding of science.

We are off and running. Steer weigh in done, finishing fair book, lock in planned, Carhartt food stand planned, QA dates set. As you can see we have been busy even though it is cold outside.
